Donald L. Siegel, MD, PhD Physician

Titles

Director, Division of Transfusion Medicine and Therapeutic Pathology

Professor of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania

Specialty

Board Certifications

Pathology, 1992

Areas of Interest

- Blood Banking
- ▶ Blood Cancer
- ▶ Bone Marrow Diseases
- ▶ Bone Marrow Transplant
- Cancer Screening and Diagnostics
- ► Hematopoietic Stem Cell Collection and Processing
- ▶ Immunohematology
- ► Monoclonal Antibodies (mAbs) Therapy
- ▶ Therapeutic Apheresis

Educational Background

Medical School: University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine

Residency: Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania

Fellowship: Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania

Memberships

American Association for Cell Biology, National American Association of Blood Banks, National American Society for Apheresis, National American Society of Hematology, National Clinical Applications and Standards Committee,
American Society for Apheresis, National
Executive Committee of the Medical Advisory Board,
Penn-Jersey Division of the American Red Cross, Local

FDA Workshop on Molecular Methods in Transfusion Medicine, National

Hema-Quebec, Quebec City, Canada, International Hema-Quebec, Quebec City, Canada, International John Morgan Society, Local

Medical Advisory Committee, Penn-Jersey Division of the American Red Cross, Local

•••

Practice Locations

Pathology and Laboratory Medicine

Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania 6 Founders 3400 Spruce Street Philadelphia, PA 19104

A facility of the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania

Dr. Siegel is a Penn Medicine employed physician.